OVERVIEW OF TRAINING COURSES

MTM-1 Base:

This training can be completed as e-learning, webinar or classroom training.

The duration of the training is 40 h. The basics of the MTM process are taught, in particular the Basic System MTM-1.

MTM-SD (BV):

This training can be completed as a webinar or classroom training. It is offered exclusively within the MB Planned Time Value Qualification and always takes place before the C-Values training. The duration of training is 16 h. The certificate of the training MTM-SD (40 h) is also recognized. The sequences of movements of the MTM-SD (standard data), the basic system of MB Planned Time Values, are taught. If you would like to register for this, you must register once on our website.

To get a special Daimler access, please send us an e-mail. You will then receive the necessary user rights to view and book this training on our website.

C-VALUES:

This training can be completed as a webinar or classroom training. The training lasts 40 h. The Daimler AG operational Building Block System with the data cards „Assembly“ and „Measuring and Checking“ is taught.

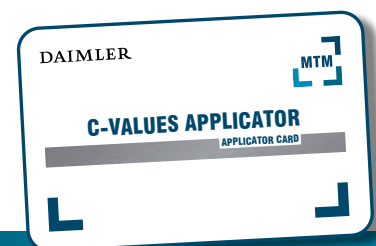

- All courses are available in German and English and must be booked separately (registration/login required). Course dates can be arranged in coordination with Daimler AG with a lead time of 4 weeks.
- Participation in the C-Values training is subject to approval by Daimler AG. The form for this is provided with the C-Values training.

Card/Certificate “C-Values Applicator”

The prerequisite for the practical application of C-Values for the planning, evaluation and design of processes in the operational environment of Daimler AG is the successful completion of the C-Values exam. This is proven by the card „C-Values Applicator“ and/or by a C-Values certificate.

The minimum requirements for obtaining the „C-Values Applicator“ card are:

- the participation in a training MTM-1 Base (passed exam)
- the participation in a training MTM-SD (basic values) (without examination)
- the completion of the training C-Values (passed exam)

We are at your disposal for any questions concerning the MTM training.
